

Céline Gauer
Director-General, SG REFORM

Céline Gauer has been the Director-General of the Reform and Investment Task Force since its creation on 1 February 2025, and its predecessor SG RECOVER since 2020. After studying Political Sciences in Paris, she obtained a Law degree from the Sorbonne University and immediately went on to work for the European Commission, in the Directorate-General for “Consumer Protection”. From 1995 to 2018, Céline Gauer worked in the DG COMP, climbing up the ranks. Starting as a policy Officer, she became deputy Head of Unit, Head of Unit, and Director. After a quick passage through DG SANTE as deputy Director-general and deputy secretary-general in the SG, she joined her current position, where she has been responsible for the RRF ever since.
